Special Note...

Print this article now.

Our new downloads are only available for a very limited time. A lot of people have been asking me if our new format will be archived online, and I'm sorry to say that they will not for several reasons:

- ♥ Our articles and special reports from our ezine are samples of our existing books or our upcoming books. Many will be a series of articles that YOU get along the way while we are writing the books. We have to limit them online.
- ♥ We want for you to learn alongside of us. I have huge files of ezines that I do not look at as much as I should. I noticed the past few months that the ones that I DO read regularly are only available online for a few days. Well, I want you WITH ME as we go along. If you save the ezines with the links, you will soon find that the links do not work very long. After I take them offline, we will not repost them or make them available except in our books or special sets.
- ♥ Finally, our websites are huge. We have TONS going on. Because of that, we have only a certain amount of space online. We can't keep all of our goodies there forever JUST IN CASE.

So...download quickly each week. Print out a copy and keep in a special notebook for your continuing education. Sure, you may want to create a folder in your computer for your articles, but do remember that computers can lose data. So, do both! Set up a file in your computer for our goodies and set up a notebook to keep your collection of articles. I think you will enjoy this format much better AND you will probably learn much, much more!

Take time each week to open up your download and print it out. Take us with you! Again, print this out now! Enjoy!

With much love,
Cindy

Hi!

It is FRIDAY! Time for our Friday Freebie!

This freebie is my treat for you today! Thanks for checking out my website. I hope you will come to visit each and every week. We have a freebie every Friday here on our site.

This one is fun. I think you will enjoy it. In this Friday Freebie, I am including printable pages from my book, Make Your Own Brain-in-a-Binder. I think these will really help you to plan out the chores in your home. If you want to grab a copy of the entire book, it is half off this week at this link (along with all of our other goodies!):

<http://www.CindyRushton.com/HalfOffSale.html>

And...one more thing!

I recorded an audio workshop a while back on the topic Children and Chores. This week's freebie would be incomplete without those audios. So, they are my gift for you too! ENJOY! Here are the links;

Part One:

Want to share this with a friend? Sure! Just forward the link to this Friday Freebie. I appreciate that honor!

Well, have a super week! Enjoy the site!

With much love,
Cindy

Chore Time!

We have two forms that we have designed to help with this area! The first is our Chore Planner. Our Chore Planner works with our Chore Chart to make an easy system for dividing up family chores, helping your children know what needs to be done that THEY can do, and rewarding their diligence with little blessings along the way!

Instructions:

1. Chore Planner...First, copy one page for each family member. We like for ours to be printed on bright colored pieces of cardstock paper (one color for each child). Fill in the spaces to list chores that need to be completed by each family member. After we filled in our spaces, we laminated our copy and placed it on the refrigerator for easy reference.
2. Chore Chart...Copy one page for each family member. Again, we also copied ours on bright colored pieces of cardstock paper (one color for each child). Help each family member list their "wishes" on the form. At this point, we laminated our pages so they would be as durable as possible (we keep these on the refrigerator too!). Decide on how to check off the squares—we use cute stickers from the dollar store for each box. You could use a rubber stamp...an autograph...etc.
3. Putting it all to work for you...As each member faithfully completes each chore, check off each child's Chore Chart. We set the goal of a completed chart in exchange for their wishes! When they faithfully complete whole chart of tasks, we reward them with their blessing for their faithfulness.

Easy as A...B...C! Try it out for your family!

Have fun!
